OFFICE: No. 15 Quincy Street. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1870.

THE 15TH ARTICLE.-Practically, the 15th Amendment may be considered rati-fied. According to the decision made by Congress in the case of the 14th Amendment, the attempted withdrawal of New York is a nullity. Our exchanges generally speak of the ratification as completed. It is certain that no question about New York will be raised, because the action of Texas, whose Legislature will meet next Tuesday, will clinch it, and it will be clinched still more securely by Nebraska a few days thereafter. The States that have ratified are the following:

Nevada. Louisiana. West Virgin North Caroli Illinois. Michigan. Wisconsin.

15. Florida.
16. New Hampshlt
17. Virgina.
18. Vermont.
19. Alchams.
29. Kansas.
21. Missouri.
22. Indiana.
23. Minucota.
24. Mississippi.
25. Ohlo.
26. Jows.
27. Rhote Island.
26. Georgia. Maine. South Carollus. Pennsylvania. Massachusetta The article thus incorporated in th constitution is the following: Section 1. The right of clitzens of the Unit States to vote shall not be desired or abridged the United States, or by any State, on account race, color, or previous condition of servituic. Section 2. Congress shall have power to enfor this article by appropriate legislation.

The colored men of West Virginia are now voters under the constitution of the United States. 'The voting strengh of the State is exhibited pretty accurately by the following exhibit of capitations returned ssors to the Auditor and tahulated in that officer's report for 1869. A

West Virginia Homes Wanted for New Englanders.

Below we copy (from the Fairmont Woot Virginian) a note from Rev. D. H. Covered to Grant county, asking information from people who have West Virginia hand for sale. We do this because Mr. Covered to be sufficiently asked by fleecing him out of his money, when it is object is entirely public and disinterested. Last Summer he spent several months in travelling through New England. He ascertained that great numbers of people will emigrate thence in the Spring in search of new homes. (We learn the same fact from the New England papers.) He spoke to large meetings in many of the towns and cities and set forth as well as he was able, without official or exact information, the advantages offered by West Virginia. He found that wherever he went his hearers manifested the greatest interest in this State and were eager to know more about its advantages. He says the great demand was to know definitely if land could be bought and where: and if this inquiry can be answered satisfactorily in time, hundreds of tiese people in this command. I will guarante to find capital capital inquiry can be answered satisfactorily in time, hundreds of tiese people may be turned in this direction the coming Spring. Mr. Cover not only More's identified the coming Spring. Mr. Cover not only More's identified the following spring. Mr. Cover not only More's identified the first than a distinct the conting Spring. Mr. Cover not only More's identified the first themselves and can't do it either. But any really on the content of the spring in search of new homes, or the content of the spring in search of new homes. (We learn the same fact from the or way of disposing of, give it to them. But don't bother yourselves with their worthless rights.

They tell you they are too poor to construct and vend the article themselves. The tell hem you are in the same low, and can't do it either. But any really on the first product of the content of the c ple may be turned in this direction the coming Spring. Mr. Covner not only spoke to the people there wherever he had an opportunity, but he wrote articles for the leading New England papers. Our I have had a great many of these rights, with their wonderful advantages, offered the leading New England papers. Our readers will remember that some of these, as well as a letter from Mr. CONNER, appeared a few months since in our own columns. Mr. CONNER was recently here and it was suggested to him that he should speak before the members of the Legislature on the subject of New England Improvements of the subject ture on the subject of New England Immigration and his observations there, with a view of enlisting some official action to n view of enlisting some official action to promote it. We do not know whether this will be done or not; but Mr. Cov. NER, feeling very greatly interested in behalf of the State, has undertaken, at his own expense, we believe, to prepare a pamphlet for immediate circulation in the East, embodying all the positive information he can get as to the whereabouts, the kind and quality of lands that can be bought. As this gentleman is 'doing a least of the way in the case of the condition of the same of the same of the condition of the same of every county. Lands Wanted.

WIRELING, W. V.A., Feb. 1, 1870.

Land holders in West Virginia: Having spent last summer in the New England States, I observed the people of those States felt a deep interest in the welfare and growth of West Virginia, and many of them express a desire to come here, buy our lands and settle among us. Not having with me the needed documents, I could give to the inquiring people such information only, about the lands of this State, as was general, but not as definite as desired. I would say that a pamphlet containing a descriptive list of the wild and partially improved ilands of this State, scattered through those Northern States, would cause thousands to seek homes among us. I am, therefore, preparing a pamphlet of this kind, in Wheeling, and request all persons having lands for sale, especially large tracts of wild land, to send their advertisement to my address at this place. I may state the New England people generally prefer lands that are adapted to fruit and dairy purposes (and the hill lands of West).

Virginia are the best for this purpose), the lands that have water-power, timber and ore and suitable to the sheep business. Such lands will sell more readily to the Northern people than farming.
Respectfully, D. H. COYNER.

PERSONAL.—Our sanctum was favored yesterday by a call from Mr. D. O. Mau pin, editor and proprietor of the Moore-field Advertiser, who will be in the city several days, and is desirous of doing some advertising for the business men of Wheeling. The Advertiser has been published now over twenty years, for fifteen of which Mr. Maupin has been the proprietor. West Virginia may be "expected" to make the appropriation referred to, but we fear this is one of the "great expectations" doomed to disappointment.
